

Dear Friends:

I'm happy to present you with information about the educational opportunities for everyone in Pembroke Pines—from preschool to college and technical training.

Some adults consider education an art and science only for the young, and miss out on very challenging opportunities for themselves.

The City Commission and I know the value you place on living in a community with great schools and so we established the Education Advisory Board whose purpose is to focus on the relationship between our schools and our citizens.

The members of this board have volunteered their time to research and present the information in this brochure to help you explore the educational opportunities for everyone.

Sincerely,

Mayor Frank C. Ortis

A Guide To Educational Opportunities For Pembroke Pines
Residents

*"The City of Pembroke Pines named The Best Place to Raise Your Kids
in Florida in 2009
by BusinessWeek"*

This Guide includes:

Elementary Schools

Typically these schools are for grades K to 5. Parents/guardians can send their child to Broward County's public elementary schools, the City's public charter schools or a private school.

Middle Schools

Typically these schools are for grades 6 to 8. Parents/guardians can send their child to Broward County's public middle schools, the City's public charter schools or a private school.

High Schools

Typically these schools are grades 9-12. Parents/guardians can send their child to Broward County's public high schools, the City's public charter schools or a private school.

Colleges & Universities

Institutions of higher learning may be public (state and federally supported/open to all who qualify) or private (state chartered/restricted admission) academic institutions. Their founders may create them as profit-making entities or nonprofit entities. They may or may not be accredited by a regional accrediting body. It is important to choose a college, which is accredited to facilitate credit transfer. All involve costs such as tuition, books, room and board, and other fees.

Preschools & Nursery Schools

Visit the schools your research pinpointed and question those in charge about concerns you have and ask if the caregivers are bonded and licensed.

Private Schools & Businesses

Independent schools incorporated under state law as profit-making entities or non-profit entities by private individuals or religious groups. Private schools can focus on elementary, secondary, postsecondary, vocational, trade or college level education. They do require payment of specific fees. They may or may not be accredited by a regional accrediting body. Private businesses should have a city occupational license.
