Contest Rules and Regulations

Any person may enter their property or nominate another property for award consideration in the Natalie Belmonte Great Yards contest as long as the property is located within City boundaries.

The contest will be judged based on five components for the aesthetics, design and maintenance of a butterfly garden. There will be one winner for each district, one City wide winner, one commercial property winner, and education institution winner. Judging will be performed by the Environmental Advisory Board. All decision(s) of the Environmental Advisory Board and the City shall be final. Awards will be present at a City Commission meeting by the Mayor and City Commission in the month of May, in the Spirit of Mother's day and to honor Natalie Belmonte on her birthday month. Deadline for all submittals is April 11th 2019. All applications must be submitted via US Mail or in person. Application and/or photos received after the deadline and incomplete submittals will not be considered.

I hereby acknowledge and understand that by submitting any entry to the City of Pembroke Pines ("City") in response to the "Natalie Belmonte Great Yards Award" contest that I have the authority to transfer any rights, ownership, interest, and license in each submission, including photographic negatives and positives, to the City of Pembroke Pines, and hereby transfer all such rights, ownership, interest, and licenses in each submission to the City. The contestant acknowledges and certifies that he/she has obtained and transfers any and all applicable release for any person, including children whose image is taken within each submission to the City. Each submission shall become the sole and exclusive property of the City without compensation or limitation where the City may use, reproduce, copy, and distribute any submission.

Furthermore, the Contestant agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the City, its officers agents, employees and contractors, and the members of the Environmental Advisory Board, from and against any and all loss, damage, claim, demand, liability, or expense, including negligence, investigation costs and reasonable attorney's fees and costs, by reason of any damage or injury to person or property which may be claimed to have arisen or in connection with the "Natalie Belmonte Great Yards Award" contests, including, but not limited to, the submission of any entry, use any photograph or video either submitted or taken by the Environmental Advisory Board or other City employee, and the subsequent judging, including but not to entry upon the contestant's property. This obligation shall survive the termination of the "Natalie Belmonte Great Yards Award" contest and nothing in this release shall be interpreted as a waiver of the City's sovereign immunity as set forth in Section 768.82, Florida Statutes.

Scoring Components

The five scoring components for each property are:

1. Butterfly component:

This area judges the preservation of all stages of a butterfly's life. It should supply food and shelter with the proper selection of plants. (sage, lavender, milkweed, goldenrod, firebush, penta... are some suggested plants).

2. Design and function:

This area judges the overall design, use of texture, compatibility of materials, continuity, balance, and the overall function of the landscape in correlation to the use of the property.

3. Maintenance:

The focus on this section will be the overall view of the property's landscape maintenance. The judges will be looking to see that the planter beds are kept weed free, edged, and that mulching and fertilization is kept up.

4. Florida Friendly Value:

The use of low-maintenance plants and environmentally sustainable practices.

5. Use of Hardscapes:

This section judges the use of non-living additions to finish a landscape, such as fountains, ponds, statues, boulders, decks, mulch, stones, etc.
